AMERICANIZED.

That is the title the publishers have given the work just issued from the press under the name of the Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica. The Americanized is based on the original and ninth edition of that world-famed work, the Encyclopædia Britannica. The points of difference in the two works are: First, the Engglish edition, published all the way from five to twenty years ago, has become out of date. The Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica has brought every subject treated of in the original work down to date, making it of more practical use to the American reader who is interested in American subjects. than the English work itself, which, being compiled by Englishmen for the use of Englishmen, neglected American subjects, and in a great many cases did not mention them at all. Second-The English edition does not mention the name of any living person, no matter how noted they ere. The Americanized Encyclopadia Britannica more than makes this omission good by adding nearly 4,000 new biographies of living men and women; also including those recently deceased, whose names will be handed down in history.

To illustrate the difference, the English edition devotes over six columus to an Euglish county, and but three-quarters of a column to an American State. The Americanized Encyclopædia Britannica reverses this order by giving the six columns of space to the American State and the three-fourths of a column to the English county.

You are more interested about American matters than you are about English, aren't you? Well, if you look up the English edition you will find an exhaustive treatise on Birming. ham, England, and when you look for Birmingham, Alabama, an American city of over 40,000 population, the English edition doesn't even mention

Well, it seems that the Encyclopredia Britannica should be AMER-ICANIZED! And that is just whe' the publishers have done. They hat taken the Encyclopædia Britannica to pieces, as it were, and remodeled it for the American reader, the whole work being brought down to date.

Now, you know enough about the Americanised Encyclopædia Britannica to know if you want further information. If so, call at our office and examine the work. Meanwhile, read our proposition. If you think favorably of it, place your subscription to our paper and obtain this valuable work of reference on the following sasy terms :

we will be the Bailty Herald one year and the set is accompanies for $30, 80 down and $2.50 per min h till paid; The Sunday Herald and the set for $22.50 and The Beni-Weighl Reald and the set (with a premium receipt) for $22.00 also in monthly payments if desired discount of 5 per sent will be allowed for each. The above offer is for the Encyclopedian in cloth binding; sheep binding $3.50 per set extra, half moreoco, $5.00 per set extra. These valuable becks can only be obtained by subscribing for The Herald. The sets are now on hand, and we will be pleased to show samples to any one who will call at our office.
